Dear Saint Joseph girls School,

I am very delighted to write you this letter. How are you? The reason why I am writing you this letter is to tell you about my self and how the coronavirus has affected my life, my education and everything. My name is Stella Cobbinah. I am fourteen years old. I come from Domeabra in the Central Region of Ghana. I am dark in complexion and also four feet tall.

During the close down of the school we were asked to go home by the president. We stayed in the house for almost six to seven months. We also found it difficult to go out either to sell or to buy because the president has announced lockdown.

Coronavirus has affected my education because I have forgotten some of the things I learnt in school. Since I was not having any materials to practise my hand on, on my own.

Because of coronavirus, this year Christmas will be sad for me because inviting some friends to come to my house will be risky to me and my family. So the Christmas will be managed in the house with the family alone.

I have recieved your letter and I am happy for your readiness in supporting my education in Baobab. Have a good time and stay safe all of you and ~~at~~ that of your parents.

Thank you very much and hope to recieve a letter from you again.

Yours faithfully,
Stella Cobbinah
